

I have a Spam filter, but recently have received two e-mails utilizing MY e-address as the sender. Both are from the same vendor, because the ads are exactly the same (for increasing one's "cum," and being able to "shoot it like the porn stars." I find this highly offensive and inappropriate to receive, and if it is not illegal to use my address in this appropriated fashion without receiving my explicit permission, it should be.

What recourse can I take?
